“ Not a day that goes by I don't think of you. I see so much of you when I look at Luke. He looks like you, has ways like you, smart as all get out (from you), and so kind hearted. I know he misses his daddy so very much and all I can do is cry right along with him. Guess at times im too hard on him but I want him to be that man that knows how to do for himself, how to learn to work & provide, he wants a family so bad and its really depressing for him, we talk about it alot, I cant make his brothers or sister see him or have anything to do with him, but he doesnt understand why they don't or won't, neither do I but thats their karma. They have no idea what theyre missing. I thank you for the years we were together and I thank you for giving me Lucas. I pray everyday that you're looking down on us and watching out for Lucas. he loved his daddy more than i could begin to tell you. I try my best to talk about you, im always saying things such as What would you're daddy do right now, what do you think he'd say to you? It helps so much at times and he knows, he has your sense of smarts! Im so thankful that you & I have always still loved each other and had respect for each other. There is nothing i wouldn't have did for you if you needed, remember we talked about it the last 2 weekends you were here before you passed away, and i will never forget our conver-sation that day, you told me about the bible and tried giving it back to mark he wouldnt take it, he said read it again. You did, twice, and I knew it you knew it, i just didnt want to accept it. Thank you for always smiling no matter what the situation, and lucas does the same thing, tell ronnie to look down on us too R.I.P
