“ I am sorry that we have lost Roy, but glad he is not suffering any longer. He was a great person. I remember when we all came to your house for lunch..... Roy sat at the head of the table and I would always try to sit on the side next to him... We had such great arguments on politics. Don't know if we agreed or disagreed --think we would change sides to continue our argument. He and you, Ozell, always made me feel so welcome and I miss being around you and seeing all of your amazing family. MY thoughts and prayers are with all of you. He passed the same date as Stacye just 28 years later - she died in 1989. Can't help but think of Jimmy and at least he did not have to go through the grief of loosing his father. I love all of you and maybe will get a chance to see you one of these days. Forgive me for not coming today, but it is best that I not be there.
